Spartans prayed to their gods they would treat them back in wealth, good living and respect. Some of the Spartan people would pray so they could win their wars and be good fighters.

Spartans Life

All of the Spartans had some type of job they also ate little. They were not round or big because the men were trained to fight and be a war machine. The women were not trained that much. The boys would get trained at the age six or seven years old. To join the army you have to be about twenty.

Training

The boys would train at the age six or seven years old and they would eat very little. They were not big or round as they got older their training got harder the boys first war they would be twenty years old.

Spartans Women

The Spartan women were very strong and a tough cookie she can also hurt a guy. All of the women had some kind of job like a doctor or a cook.

Spartan war Machine

The Spartan soldier is the greatest of them all the Spartan had three weapons. First the spear 7 feet long so they could get their allies from a distance or an angle. Next the shield used for defense or offense it's like having a person in front of you that is how big it is the shield is thick. Last they have a little dagger that is razor sharp to keep them going they had courage to take risks of death and strength to fight and to keep on going.
